1000. SAVAGE MILITARY MODEL 1907 SEMI-AUTO PISTOL serial #129981, 32 ACP, 3 13/16" barrel with a lightly frosted but near excellent bore. This 1915-manufactured pistol retains about 60% of its original faded blue finish with considerable silvering on the muzzle, frame and high edges. The majority of the finish is taking on a purple/brown color from past handling and oxidation. The hard rubber grips exhibit considerable wear with the Savage logo partially worn away on the left panel, a small chip missing from the right grip panel and an assortment of scratches and dings on both panels. This pistol features the larger slide serrations, loaded chamber indicator and a wire lanyard loop on the butt. Included is a single, ten round, magazine that is covered with pits on about 10% of its surface. (86081-20){C&R} (100/200)

Metal surfaces show an even gray brown patina turning to silver on the high edges, with the non-matching bolt showing pitting on the extractor. The receiver shows a clear Guatemalan crest, consisting of a Quetzal with crossed rifles and swords. The left side of the receiver is stamped with a Czechoslovakian Zbrojovka Brno manufacturers marking. The barrel is import marked in front of the bayonet lug. No cleaning rod is present. The stock shows moderate use and soiling, with the correct serial number faintly visible on the left side of the butt along with the added carved initials "C.A.T.". The upper handguard appears to be a period replacement, and shows cracking adjacent to the receiver. Included is a correct CSZ marked bayonet and a military sling. A pleasing example of the VZ24 short rifle in overall good condition. (146128-121) {C&R} [Robert W.D. Ball Collection] (200/400)
1004. SYRIAN MODEL 1948 BOLT ACTION SHORT RIFLE serial #V28757, 8mm Mauser, 23" barrel with a bright near excellent bore. Metal surfaces of the barrel and receiver display some original finish in protected areas, with the remainder fading to a pleasing blue gray. Import marks are evident ahead of the bayonet lug. The remaining metal furniture shows a brown patina turning to silver at the high points, with the floorplate correctly numbered. A strong Syrian crest is evident on the top of the receiver. The bright finished bolt is correctly numbered to the rifle and shows a gray patina turning to brown on exposed surfaces. The stock is correctly numbered as well, and remains in very good plus condition with scattered dings and usage marks. Included is correct bayonet and scabbard in very fine condition, as well as a period military sling. Overall a very nice Syrian Mauser short rifle that should make an excellent shooter. (146128-79) {C&R} [Robert W.D. Ball Collection] (200/400)
1005. GREEK MODEL 1930 BOLT ACTION SHORT RIFLE BY FN serial #Z5542, 8mm Mauser, 23" barrel with a dark bore showing pitting throughout. The metal surfaces show a gray to brown mottled patina. The receiver displays the Greek crest consisting of a crowned shield with short-armed cross over the model date of 1930, along with Fabrique Nationale manufacturers markings on the left side; no import marks are visible. The bright finished bolt displays gray patina with traces of original blue on the bolt sleeve and safety, and is not numbered to the gun. There is no cleaning rod present. The stock remains in good condition, showing evidence of light sanding. The correct serial number is faintly visible on the right side of the butt, with several sets of lightly hand-carved initials on the left side. Light dings and usage marks are evident across the wood surfaces. Included is a correct un-marked bayonet in very good to near excellent condition, and a military style sling. An interesting representative piece for the Mauser collector. (146128-45) {C&R} [Robert W.D. Ball Collection] (200/400)
1006. SPANISH MODEL 1893 BOLT ACTION RIFLE BY LOEWE serial #L4488, 7mm Mauser, 29" barrel with a dark bore showing pitting throughout. Metal surfaces show an even dark brown patina with the exposed surfaces of the barrel showing light surface pitting. The receiver bears the royal coat of arms of Spain over "BERLIN 1896". The bolt displays some bright metal in protected areas, with handle and bolt sleeve showing a dark brown patina. All visible serial numbers match, including the bolt, bolt sleeve, safety, floorplate, and triggerguard; no import marks are visible and there is no cleaning rod present. The stock is in good condition, with numerous impressions and usage marks and appears to have a later coat of varnish added. The forend shows a repaired break between the barrel band and bayonet lug. An un-marked period military sling is included. Overall an interesting Spanish American War-era rifle with matching numbers in good condition. (146128-36) {ANTIQUÉ} [Robert W.D. Ball Collection] (200/400)
1007. TURKISH MODEL 1888/38 COMMISSION BOLT ACTION RIFLE serial #10381, 8mm Mauser, 29" barrel with a fair bore showing darkening and frosting in the grooves. Metal surfaces show a period arsenal reblued finish with pitting along the barrel channel and scattered spots of lighter surface oxidation. A dated Turkish crest on the receiver indicates a 1936 arsenal rework at Ankara from a Mauser 1888 commission rifle to the somewhat loose Turkish model 38 specifications of the time; no import marks are visible. The bolt is correctly numbered to the gun, and retains some bright finish in protected areas with the remainder fading to gray. The stock appears as a somewhat unskilled replacement of the original, no doubt occurring at the time of the rework. The rifle includes a period military sling in fair condition, as well as a Turkish marked bayonet with a 9 5/8" blade made by shortening and re-marking an original 1888 bayonet. An interesting if somewhat crude example of the Turkish efforts to standardize their small arms in the 1930's. (146128-59) {ANTIQUÉ} [Robert W.D. Ball Collection] (200/300)
1008. NICARAGUAN CZECH MODEL VZ24 BOLT ACTION SHORT RIFLE serial #0965, 8mm Mauser, 23 1/4" barrel with a very good bore. Exposed surfaces of the barrel show a smooth dark brown un-cleaned patina, with receiver and floorplate showing as a mottled black brown patina. The receiver bears a Nicaraguan "circle within circle" mark on the top front, as well as Czech Zbrojovka markings on the side rail. Import markings are present adjacent to the bayonet lug. The correctly numbered bolt remains in the white, and shows a bright as-cleaned finish. The stock is in very good condition, showing evidence of light sanding. A Nicaraguan cartouche and correct serial number are faintly visible on the left side, with a stock disc on the right. The handguard shows cracks along the full length, but remains intact. The rifle includes a correct bayonet in good condition, and a period military sling. An interesting example of Sandinista armament that bears evidence of long service. (146128-120) {C&R} [Robert W.D. Ball Collection] (200/400)

1009. BRAZILIAN MODEL 1908 BOLT ACTION SHORT RIFLE BY D.W.M. serial #B5904, 7mm Mauser, 22" barrel with a dark about good bore showing moderate pitting throughout. Metal surfaces show dark brown patina turning to pewter at the muzzle and forecap. Scattered spots of surface oxidation are evident on all surfaces. The Brazilian crest is about 50% visible on the top of the receiver, with "MOD. 1908" stamped on the right and D.W.M. manufacturers markings on the left side rail. The bolt is in the white, turning to gray in exposed areas. Correctly numbered parts include the bolt and trigger guard extension, with the floorplate, safety, and cocking piece showing non-matching numbers; no cleaning rod is present. The buttplate shows heavier pitting as well as an impression at the heel that has left the upper screw proud of the surrounding metal. The stock is in very good condition, showing typical marks and impressions from years of use. No stock markings or cartouches are visible. The rifle includes a correct bayonet and leather scabbard both in good condition, and a military style sling. (146128-17) {C&R} [Robert W.D. Ball Collection] (200/400)
1010. PARAGUAYAN MODEL 1927 BOLT ACTION SHORT RIFLE BY OVIEDO serial #B807, 7.65 Argentine, 22 1/2" barrel with a dark bore showing moderate pitting throughout. The metal surfaces show dark gray black patina with brown surface oxidation in protected areas. The receiver ring displays a strong Paraguayan national crest, along with the Spanish Oviedo manufacturers marking on the left side rail; no import marks are visible. The non-matching bolt remains in the white, turning to gray in protected areas. The stock is in good condition, showing a rough soiled surface and a faintly visible cartouche. No cracks are apparent. Included is a correct bayonet and scabbard in about good condition and a military style sling. (146128-117) {C&R} [Robert W.D. Ball Collection] (200/400)
1011. MEXICAN MODEL 1936 BOLT ACTION SHORT RIFLE serial #80339P, 7mm Mauser, 23" barrel with a dark bore showing light pitting throughout. Metal surfaces show a smooth black brown patina with light surface oxidation. An import mark is visible forward of the nose cap. The front receiver ring bears a strong 1947 dated Mexican national crest. The bolt remains in the white and shows a bright surface as-cleaned. The stock is in very good condition showing an added coat of lightly sanded varnish, as well as a 1" crack at the upper tang. Scattered light dings and usage marks appear across the wood surface. Included is a correct bayonet in very good condition as well as a period military sling. An interesting example of the last military Mauser adopted in 7x57, in very good condition. (146128-10) {C&R} [Robert W.D. Ball Collection] (200/400)
1012. VENEZUELAN MODEL 24/30 BOLT ACTION SHORT RIFLE BY FN serial #9252, 7mm Mauser, 23 1/4" barrel with a dark, about good bore. Metal surfaces show an even black brown patina with small areas of pitting evident on the triggerguard. The receiver bears a strong Venezuelan national crest with Fabrique Nationale manufacturers markings present on the left side rail. The matching bolt is in-the-white and shows a bright surface with evidence of a later polish. The stock is in very good plus condition, and shows a coat of added varnish with associated light sanding. A correct serial number is visible on the right side above the recoil lug. In overall very good condition, the rifle includes a period military sling with quick detachable swivels. (146128-70) {C&R} [Robert W.D. Ball Collection] (200/400)
1013. MEXICAN MODEL 1910 BOLT ACTION CARBINE serial #3397, 7mm Mauser, 18" barrel with an about good bore showing frosting throughout. Metal surfaces have faded to gray brown, showing as darker brown on the floorplate and triggerguard; no import marks are visible. The 1923 dated receiver bears a Mexican national crest. The correctly numbered bolt remains in the white, having aged to a smooth pearly gray. The stock and handguard are nicely matched and remain in very good plus condition, showing light impressions and usage marks across the surface. No cracks are evident. Included is a period military sling and a cleaning rod is present, although incorrect in diameter. Overall a nice example of the 1910 carbine in very good condition. (146128-4) {C&R} [Robert W.D. Ball collection] (200/400)
1014. ARGENTINE MODEL 1891 BOLT ACTION RIFLE BY LOEWE serial #K5749, 7.65 Argentine, 29" barrel with a good bore showing moderate frosting within the grooves. Metal surfaces of the barrel show a black brown patina with areas of heavier oxidation and soiling along the barrel channel; there are no import marks visible. The barrel bands, triggerguard, and bolt release show a matte black surface as refinished, with areas of matte black paint evident on some surfaces. The buttplate shows heavier oxidation and associated pitting. The receiver retains a smooth black-brown patina with a strong Argentine crest on the front ring. Markings on the left side rail indicate manufacture by Loewe of Berlin. The non-matching bolt is in-the-white turning gray brown in exposed areas, with the bolt sleeve and safety showing bright polish. The stock remains in good condition, showing 50-60% original finish with impressions and usage marks apparent across the surface. A 2 1/2" crack shows on both sides of the butt, approximately 1 1/2" above the toe. In overall very good condition, this rifle includes an Argentine model 1909 bayonet with scabbard and frog, as well as a period military sling and leather ammunition pouch. (146128-26) {ANTIQUÉ} [Robert W.D. Ball Collection] (200/400)

1015. U.S. MODEL 1842 PERCUSSION MUSKET BY SPRINGFIELD .69 cal. percussion, 42" barrel with an oxidized bore. Metal surfaces of the barrel show a dark brown patina with moderate to heavy pitting surrounding the breechplug, bolster and tang; VP eagle proofs are still visible. The lock remains functional, and shows a dark gray brown patina with lighter pitting across the surface. The lockplate shows a vertical 1845 date under two-line SPRING/FIELD marking at the rear, along with a faintly visible US eagle mark at the center. The stock is in interesting condition, with the entire section forward of the first barrel band being a somewhat creative earlier replacement. The replaced wood is held in place by two barrel bands, the forward band being nearly flush with the muzzle. The wood appears to actually be walnut, with a slightly over-size barrel channel and a section of cane fly rod replacing the original ramrod. All wood to the rear of the first barrel band is original and remains in good condition showing earlier light cleaning along with a barrel wedge added 3 1/2" forward of the lock; no cartouche is visible. In overall amusing condition, this 1842 musket should appeal to a collector of both U.S. martial firearms and vintage fly fishing equipment. (146121-34) {ANTIQUÉ} (200/300)

1016. GERMAN P.08 LUGER PISTOL BY DWM serial #6003m, 9 mm, 4" barrel with a very good bore which shows strong rifling but with minor pitting in the grooves more prominent near the throat. The metal surfaces retain about 90% original blue, the loss is due primarily to even fading on the barrel, high edges and contact point wear. There is sparsely scattered light surface oxidation present in some areas and a few spots of very light pinprick pitting. The straw parts have faded primarily to gray on the left side of the gun showing some very good color on the ejector and magazine release on the right side. All of the visible numbers are matching including the firing pin. The firing pin shows a repaired nose and the milled recess in the bolt itself into-which the firing pin retainer keys, has broken out rearward, no doubt due to some catastrophic failure that broke the firing pin and has resulted in the left side front of the toggle link being cracked (basically this means the firing pin retainer does not keep the firing pin in the bolt recess). Currently the gun will not fire. The checkered walnut grips rate good to perhaps very good with some minor flattening of the points, more prominent on the left grip, they are stamp-numbered to the gun. Included is one bright-bodied wood base magazine marked only "Germany" with the body of the magazine showing a number of dents and wrinkles. Overall a good 1916-dated Luger which needs some professional attention. (36188-6) {C&R} (400/600)

1017

1017. CUTE BELGIAN CHILD'S PATTERN 1853 ENFIELD PERCUSSION MUSKET This is a neat and diminutive musket, patterned after the British Enfield pattern 1853 rifle-musket. It is about .41 caliber smoothbore with a 29 1/2" round barrel and a lightly oxidized bore. The metal surfaces are primarily a dark gray and brown patina showing some strong traces of original black japanning with some light pitting in the area of the nipple and its bolster. There are Belgian proofs in this area with the top-flat numbered "309". The lockplate shows traces of some smoky case colors but is predominantly a soft brown. The gun features an iron Enfield-style nose-cap, dual bands and sling swivels with iron triggerguard and buttplate. The English walnut stock rates about very good with the overall minor dings and handling marks one would expect from the years of "soldiering", also with some good varnish remaining. The lock is mechanically functional and the ramrod is slightly bent at its tip. Overall length is about 44 1/4". A quality Belgian child's musket. (35886-7) {ANTIQUE} (700/900)

1018

1018. BELGIAN CHILD'S PERCUSSION FOWLER About 24 ga., 30" part octagon part round barrel with a turned medial at the point of transition and a lightly oxidized bore. The barrel is a primarily smooth pewter gray and lightly freckled brown patina with a simple half-moon front blade sight. There is a single Belgian proof atop the barrel flat and minor pitting in the area of the nipple bolster. Somewhat spartan, the unmarked lock is primarily a dull gun metal gray with light pinprick pitting while the iron triggerguard and iron buttplate are a pewter and brown patina. The European walnut stock rates very good showing an old light cleaning with a checkered wrist, now primarily flat-topped. The butt exhibits some minor drying cracks from the years with another drying crack at the ramrod recess. There are two simple iron ramrod thimbles and what is likely the original wooden ramrod with brass tip is present. Stock shows a few areas of dark oxidation staining from the years but they are unobtrusive, the butt showing some nice grain and the initials "J.xB.xG." have been lightly incise-carved into the right side of the butt. Overall length is 44". An attractive little child's fowler overall. (36123-2) {ANTIQUE} (150/250)

1019. RUGER AMERICAN MODEL BOLT ACTION RIFLE serial #690-80810, 243 Win, 22" barrel with an as-new, unfired bore. The metal surfaces retain all their original factory satin blue finish while the synthetic stock rates excellent-as new with its factory applied advertising stickers intact. This rifle is as-new in its original box. The rifle went from factory to distributor and comes directly from an FFL, never having transferred on a 4473. There are two very light abrasions in the matte finish on the left side of the barrel near the barrel address, they do not breach the blue (it was a result of improper shipping, the bolt was not properly secured in the shipping carton). These American rifles feature a hammer forged, free-floating barrel, adjustable trigger, convenient tang-mounted safety and a detachable box magazine. Includes the original box numbered to the gun with all paperwork and a Ruger padlock; there are factory Weaver-style bases atop the receiver. (36123-1) (300/400)

1020. SMITH & WESSON 32 SA NO. 1 1/2 REVOLVER serial #77889, 32 RF, 3 1/2" ribbed round barrel with a very good bore. The metal surfaces are an overall mix of mottled gray-blue and tarnished pewter gun metal gray beneath, showing scattered light pitting which is generally light. The smooth rosewood grips rate very good showing an old cleaning, still fitting very well; they are stamp-numbered to the gun. The gun seems to function well mechanically, barrel-to-frame fit is only slightly loose. The revolver comes in a light-weight wooden box with covered wagon motif on the lid. (36075-8) {ANTIQUE} (300/500)

1021. SHARPS MODEL 1B PEPPERBOX PISTOL serial #1482, 22 RF, 2 1/2" four-barrel cluster with fair bores. The barrel cluster is an even mix of fading original blue and toned pewter gray on the high edges, the blue confined chiefly to the flutes; there is some light pinprick pitting at the muzzles. The frame has been lightly cleaned many years ago and is now starting to reacquire a goldenrod patina, some of the markings being slightly light. The two-piece rosewood grips rate very good plus to near excellent as neatly re-finished, the left grip with a tiny chip missing at its rear. The gun seems to function well mechanically, barrel-to-frame fit is slightly loose. The gun comes in an attractive hardwood box with carved flower motif, the interior neatly fitted in green baize. (36162-48) {ANTIQUE} (300/500)

1022. ALLEN & THURBER BAR HAMMER PEPPERBOX serial #461, .31 cal. percussion, 2 5/8" five-barrel cluster with about very good smooth bores. The barrel cluster retains about 98% later, good-quality blue with good "Allen & Thurber" and "Worcester" markings between the flutes, also showing scattered light pinprick pitting beneath. The frame has integral nipple shields and has been lightly cleaned to a pewter gun-metal gray, retaining some light oxidation staining and pinprick pits but with the loose scroll engraving still fully evident. The hammer and trigger are a mottled smoky purple-gray, the hammer "Allen's patent" marked. The smooth walnut grips rate very good plus as refinished. The gun seems to function well mechanically and comes in a hardwood jewelry box with modern oil bottle, modern bag-shaped flask and antique dual-cavity bullet mould. An attractive assemblage overall. (36162-57) {ANTIQUE} (350/550)

1023. BACON ARMS COMPANY PEPPERBOX PISTOL serial #583, 22 RF, 2 1/2" six-shot barrel cluster with good bores. The barrel cluster rates very good as lightly cleaned showing slightly softened edges on the flutes, primarily a dark gray and lighter brown patina with some scattered light pitting. The iron frame has been cleaned to an overall bright pewter patina retaining some light oxidation staining and some light pinprick pits; the hammer and trigger primarily a soft brown. The smooth rosewood grips rate very good plus as refinished showing a couple filled chips or dings on the right grip. The knurling on the barrel pin nut is now smooth, the head of the nut now slightly ovoid. The arm seems to function well mechanically. This unmarked specimen comes in a wooden presentation box with carved floral motif and green baize interior. A good example overall. (36162-59) {ANTIQUE} (350/550)

1024

1024. REMINGTON SAW HANDLE VEST POCKET DERINGER serial #R75, 30 RF, 3 1/2" barrel with a good bore. The metal surfaces are an overall dark pewter patina with some lightly scattered brown oxidation staining. The octagonal breech section shows some light and some moderate pitting, the right side with some tool marks which appear to have been an effort to remove some of the pitted steel. The smooth rosewood grips rate about very good, now devoid of finish but still fitting very well. The mechanism seems to function properly and there is a small German silver front sight in place. A good example overall of the rare 30 caliber RF size No. 2 Deringer. Included is a small leather-covered wooden jewelry box. (36075-5) {ANTIQUE} (400/600)

1025. COLT MODEL 1849 POCKET PERCUSSION REVOLVER serial #216443, .31 cal. percussion, 4" octagon barrel with an about good bore. The metal surfaces are overall moderately cleaned and are now primarily a bright gunmetal silver. The triggerguard and backstrap have toned to a goldenrod patina. The one-piece walnut grip rates very good as neatly refinished, the metal only slightly proud in a couple spots. All of the serial numbers are matching but the wedge, nearly all of the markings have been removed from the gun including the cylinder scene and barrel address, the "Colts" on the left side of the frame still visible. There are remnants of pitting scattered about, most prominent on the frame. Currently the cylinder does not turn unless the muzzle is in a downward position. It would appear as though two of the grip frame screws are brass rather than steel. The gun comes in a nice hardwood jewelry box with a modern brass dual-cavity bullet mould. (36162-52) {ANTIQUE} (350/550)
1026. BRITISH PATTERN 1853 ENFIELD BAYONET BY PRESTON OF MANCHESTER 17" blade with near full-length face and back flutes, about 21 3/4" overall length. The blade is a dull pewter patina with light pinprick pitting and oxidation staining, it is marked at its base "F. Preston/Manchester" the marking slightly light. The socket is a plum brown patina with light oxidation staining and some impact marks, it is stamped "HH" on the rear collar. The locking ring is present and fully functional. The bayonet blade is canted at a slight angle right from the axis of the socket when viewed from the rear. The correct leather scabbard with brass tips included, it is "WB" and broad arrow marked on its face. The scabbard rates very good overall with intact seam stitching. (36174-2A)
1027. GERMAN LUGER MAGAZINE This is a single blued plastic-base P.08 Luger magazine. It is fox-marked along with Waffenamts 37 stampings with P.08 at its base. The black plastic base shows a few light scuff marks. The body itself retains 90% original blue with a very small ding on the right side near the butt. The follower is bright and the spring robust. (36008-2A)
1028. ANTIQUÉ IRON CANNONBALL This is an excavated iron cannonball roughly about 4 1/4" in diameter (4.200" +/-) weighing 9 pounds 10 ounces. The iron surfaces are overall a moderately and heavily pitted brown patina. Purportedly excavated on the Major Crowden farm, the "checkered house" property made famous by Grandma Moses, on the Cambridge Turnpike, Cambridge New York. (35780-11)
1029. ANTIQUÉ POWDERHORN This is a 14 1/2" body horn with a somewhat flat softwood plug retained by seven small wooden pegs. The plug shows nicely eroded grain from the years, the harder winter grain standing proud of the eroded softer summer grain. The horn is an overall cream in color, toning to a darker gray at the open end. There is an incise medial ring carved, and no traditional spout or nozzle. The horn has numerous geometric rudimentary floral decorations within circles and has a capital "T" near the base with a capital "F" near the nozzle area; it is dated 1856. Included is a carved softwood stopper which is likely later than the horn, it is retained with a modern rawhide thong which attaches to an antique iron ring at the base plug. An attractive antique horn overall. (35840-6)
1030. U.S. MODEL 1860 STAFF AND FIELD OFFICERS SWORD BY LOMBARDIE & CO. 30" double-edged blade 35 3/8" overall length. The blade is primarily a deep tarnished pewter and brown patina with light oxidation staining, the reverse ricasso marked "C./Lombardie&Co./New York/NY". The one-piece cast hilt and guard is a dark tarnished ochre patina with a typical cast-in-relief federal eagle with floral decoration on the bow. The pommel is a similar dark tarnished ochre, the root of the guard showing a bit of light lateral play. The leather grip wrap and braided wire over-wrap is fully intact showing some very light scuffing on its backside. The included scabbard is primarily a lightly oxidized brown patina with dual brass hanger bands and brass drag. A good-near very good example overall. (35780-7) (200/300)
1031. LOT OF POWDER FLASKS This lot consists of two antique powder flasks, both showing their age somewhat. The first flask is a James Dixon & Sons Sheffield "Quick Loading Fireproof" flask with screw-off top which appears to be nickel silver. It is moderately tarnished with some dings to the five-position adjustable spout. The outer spring is moderately oxidized and the top currently will not budge, the cut off works fine however. The tin body appears to have tight seams and is un-dented, uncompressed with overall light oxidation; a remnant of its original cross-hatched leather covering is included. The second is a common top ribbed zinc bodied flask. It features a three position charging spout and fixed common top. The cut off spring is not present. The body is moderately compressed on one side, also showing a small puncture. The seams are near fully intact, one of suspension hangers is intact the other shows an old soldered repair. A good lot of parts flasks overall, the Dixon being very scarce. (35780-12C)

1032. SAVAGE MODEL 1917 PISTOL PARTS 32 ACP 3 3/4" barrel with a bright excellent bore. This lot appears to be all the internal, and most external, parts for a Savage model 1917 pistol, including the entire upper receiver assembly, but no frame is included. The upper receiver retains about 96-98% original blue. The checkered hard rubber grips with the Savage logos rate about excellent. The two-tone magazine has toned primarily to a light blue-gray patina. A nice lot overall including some very hard-to-find parts, still in very fine states of condition. (35547-1)

1033. LOT OF ANTIQUE WELLS FARGO PHOTOGRAPHS This lot consists of five antique Wells Fargo photographs. Prominently featured is a fellow by the name of "Starbuck", according to the penciling on the back of each photograph. Three are dated February 23, 1894, one only 1894 and one stamped in a blue ink stamp "June 8, 1903". The first photo features a group photo of three tiers of men behind the diamond-shaped "Wells Fargo Express" sign, our man "Starbuck" is front and center, bowler hat in hand. The next photo is of two tough-looking Wells Fargo men with their bowlers on, seated at desks; in the background are conductors or clerks and an errand boy. The next image is of two gentlemen, our man Starbuck at the forefront, seated at their desks, a large double-door safe open in the background. Another view shows an office full of clerks and other gentlemen, spittoon on the floor. The last, 1903-dated view appears to be the entire complement of office personnel with two young ladies front and center of the view; our man Starbuck standing in the back row. One of the images has "Starbuck Nyack NY" on the back the other is stamped "Cashiers Office New York Depot". A very neat collection of antique photographs overall. (36103-11A)
1034. UNMARKED EUROPEAN PINFIRE DOUBLE BARREL PISTOL About .38 cal pinfire, 4 1/2" octagon barrels with very good bores. The metal surfaces are an overall tarnished gun metal gray with a sparse scattering of light oxidation, some minor dings and some light pinprick pits. The ribbed walnut grip rates good-very good. Barrel-to-frame lockup is very loose and the top tang has its rear-most section broken off. Mechanically seems to function. (35991-21) {ANTIQUE} (25/50)
1035. BRITISH SWIVEL BARREL PERCUSSION PISTOL This is an un-marked swivel barrel percussion pistol with British proofs. About .40 cal. percussion, 4" octagon barrels with oxidized bores. Metal surfaces are an overall pewter and brown patina with light pitting. No internal parts are present. The checkered bag shaped grip with German Silver oval monogram plate rates very good. (36162-68) {ANTIQUE} (20/40)
1036. JAMES WARNER POCKET MODEL PERCUSSION REVOLVER serial #5355, .31 cal. percussion, 3 1/8" barrel with an oxidized bore. The metal surfaces are an overall dull pewter gray patina with brown speckling, light tool marks from the light cleaning and scattered light pinprick pitting; the engraving still fully visible while slightly softened. The grips rate about very good, the right grip showing a repairable crack and a small chip. Not mechanically functional and missing the trigger guard and likely other small parts. It is highly likely there are still many serviceable parts present on this antique and seldom-encountered percussion revolver. (36039-4) {ANTIQUE} (150/250)

1037. UNMARKED EUROPEAN SINGLE BARREL PERCUSSION PISTOL About .42 cal. percussion, 2 1/2" octagon barrel with a smoothbore. The metal surfaces are primarily a dull gray patina showing a light cleaning and some remnants of some light pinprick pitting. The smooth European walnut bag-shaped grip rates very good as lightly refinished. The mechanism seems to function well. This appears to be a more contemporary screw-barrel percussion pistol. (36162-65) {ANTIQUÉ} (40/80)
1038. BELGIAN SINGLE BARREL TARGET PISTOL BY LORON & CO. serial #201, .25 cal. RF, 8 1/2" octagon barrel with a fair-poor bore. The metal surfaces are an overall pewter and brown oxidized patina with the frame showing some light sprays of good quality scroll. The gun is not mechanically functional, the locking mechanism is homemade and the tip-up barrel spring is a replacement; the barrel-to-frame fit is rather poor. There is no front sight present, the rear features a modern muzzleloading buckhorn style. The walnut ribbed and lightly carved grip rates very good as does the lightly engraved buttcap. It actually appears as though this may have been one of the very rare "rocket ball" guns that may have been converted to cartridge by the barrel being set-back. If so the entire breech mechanism is a replacement and the arm was converted to rimfire; it is possible this is merely a contemporary of that system however. (36075-13) {ANTIQUÉ} (50/75)
1039. UNMARKED BRITISH SINGLE BARREL PERCUSSION COAT PISTOL About .50 cal percussion, 5 1/2" octagon barrel with a lightly oxidized bore. The barrel is a pewter gun metal gray with overall light brown oxidation staining and remnants of some light pinprick pitting. The breech is a darker gray case-hardened patina with remnants of light scroll ahead of the two inlaid platinum bands; the nipple bolsters showing a platinum or silver blowout plug. The short tang shows nice quality scroll engraving as does the back-action lock and hammer also with light sprays of good quality scroll; they are all a gray and a lightly oxidized brown patina. There is a swiveling ramrod attached beneath the barrel and the triggerguard has a lightly engraved pineapple front extension, it is an overall brown and gray patina with light pinprick pitting. The English walnut grip rates good-very good with much original varnish, overall dings and handling marks and checkering worn to flat-top; there is an un-engraved rectangular monogram plate atop the wrist. Mechanically functional, the only marking is a British proof on the underside of the barrel. (35720-4) {ANTIQUÉ} (100/200)

1040. SMITH & WESSON 32 SA MODEL 1 1/2 REVOLVER WITH SHORT BARREL serial #119972, 32 RF, rare 2 3/4" ribbed round barrel with a near very good bore. The barrel retains about 90-92% original nickel with loss at the muzzle and on the right side flash area of the barrel lug, slightly less on the left side flash area. The frame retains a similar amount of original nickel, the loss being flaking with light pitting in the flash area around the barrel hinge. The cylinder is now a near even mix of original nickel and flaked gun metal gray with some light oxidation and light pinprick pitting. The hammer shows some very good case colors with some light oxidation. The smooth rosewood grips rate very good with much original varnish, overall minor dings and handling marks and scuffing along their sharp edge; they are stamp-numbered to the gun. The included factory letter shows shipment to M W Robinson in January of 1875 with 50 other short barreled guns, it confirms the configuration including barrel length. Mechanical function and lockup is good-very good. (35884-4) {ANTIQUÉ} (800/1200)

1041. SMITH & WESSON MODEL NO. 1 THIRD ISSUE SHORT BARREL REVOLVER serial #77046, 22 RF, 2 11/16" ribbed round barrel with a fair-good bore. The smooth rosewood grips rate about good and are devoid of varnish with minor dings and handling marks, the right grip with a near full-length split which should be an easy repair, they are stamp-numbered to the gun. The frame shows some tool marks top and bottom around the cylinder cut and recoil shield. The mechanism functions loosely and slightly over-times. The included factory letter shows shipment to MW Robinson with a short barrel in March of 1873 along with 100 units also with short barrels. (35884-9) {ANTIQUÉ} (500/700)

1042. AMERICAN STANDARD TOOL COMPANY SINGLE ACTION REVOLVER serial #25459, 22 RF, 3 1/8" ribbed octagon barrel with a poor bore. The barrel is a pleasing smooth pewter gun metal gray with light speckled brown oxidation staining. The cylinder is a dull pewter patina with an excellent Indian fight scene with very nice foliate border. The frame retains about 40% original silver plate with the balance toning to a tarnished ocher patina, the right side showing numerous minor dings and handling marks. The smooth walnut grips rate very good plus to near excellent with much original varnish showing very nice grain figure, they are un-numbered and fit perfectly. Currently the gun does not function, removal of the sideplate reveals that the hammer is cracked. Frame, cylinder and barrel are numbered alike and barrel-to-frame lockup is excellent. (36015-12) {ANTIQUÉ} (150/250)
1043. FOREHAND & WADSWORTH TRAMPS TERROR SOLID FRAME REVOLVER serial #237, 22 RF, 2 1/4" round barrel with an oxidized bore. This appears to be a more contemporary screw-barrel percussion pistol. (35871-39) {ANTIQUÉ} (40/80)

1045. UNMARKED EUROPEAN PINFIRE DOUBLE BARREL PISTOL About .38 cal pinfire, 4 1/2" octagon barrels with about very good bores. The metal surfaces are an overall gun metal gray with a sparse scattering of light oxidation, grind and tool marks and some light pinprick pits. The ribbed walnut grip rates about good, its fit is somewhat poor. Barrel-to-frame lockup is good however the barrel will not pivot forward far enough to load. Mechanically the arm seems to function and there is a top-of-barrel mounted sliding safety. (35732-2) {ANTIQUÉ} (25/50)

The hammer exhibits some remnants of case colors while the trigger has toned to gray. The smooth rosewood grips rate about very good with overall minor dings and flaking. The cylinder pin head is quite scarred up and its retaining screw is no longer present. The gun seems to function well for the most part however the full-cock notch is worn and the gun will not hold at full cock. The chambers are threaded, their nipple inserts are no longer present. (36131-5) {ANTIQUÉ} (300/500)
1047. FRANZ STOCK 32 ACP PISTOL serial #24380, 32 ACP, 3 5/8" barrel with an about very good bore. 1048. IVER JOHNSON TOP-BREAK DOUBLE ACTION REVOLVER serial #T52121, 38 S&W, 4" ribbed round barrel with a poor bore. The metal surfaces retain about 70% original nickel which is flaking and bubbling, the areas of loss are dark brown active flaked oxidation showing light pitting. The blued and color case-hardened parts also exhibit oxidation. The checkered hard rubber owls head grips rate about very good. Mechanically functional. (36114-2) {C&R} (50/100)

The smooth rosewood grips rate very good plus as lightly refinished. The gun seems to function mechanically although lockup is somewhat loose. According to Flayderman these guns were blued, the lack of the barrel markings and the light tool marks on the barrel indicate likely a later nickel finish. (36131-7) {ANTIQUE} (150/250)
1062. HARRINGTON & RICHARDSON YOUNG AMERICA SOLID FRAME REVOLVER serial #3746, 32 CF, 2" octagon barrel with a good bore. 1066. HIGH STANDARD HD MILITARY SEMI-AUTO PISTOL serial #171964, 22 LR, 6 3/4" barrel with a bright excellent bore. There is currently an overall coating of light hardened oil on the gun as well. The fully checkered walnut grips rate very good with only lightly flattening of the points and some light wear along their sharp edges. There is one original ten-round magazine included and it appears as though the front sight has been slightly regulated. 1069. NATIONAL ARMS COMPANY NO. 2 SINGLE SHOT DERINGER serial #6567, 41 RF, 2" barrel with an about very good bore. The metal surfaces on this nice little Deringer retain about 98% later silver plate over a lightly buffed finish which has left remnants of some pinprick pitting and leaving the engraving slightly soft. The checkered walnut grips rate excellent, showing perhaps a light professional restoration. The mechanism works crisply however the barrel-to-frame fit is rather loose. (36015-8) {ANTIQUE} (250/450)
1070. BELGIAN BRASS-BARRELED CENTER HAMMER PERCUSSION PISTOL About .48 cal. percussion, 3" cannon-belled octagon barrel with a lightly oxidized bore. The barrel and integral frame are a light goldenrod patina with the frame flats and showing some very light foliate engraving. The saw-handled walnut grip is a later replacement, likely done during the period of use, rating about good. There is an applied brass backstrap, rather rudimentarily done, doubtless by the person who restocked the gun. There is a Belgian proof mark on the left side barrel flat and the gun seems to function mechanically. (35948-11) {ANTIQUE} (75/150)
1071. UNMARKED EUROPEAN DOUBLE BARREL PERCUSSION PISTOL About 40 cal. percussion, 4" octagon barrels with lightly oxidized bores. The metal surfaces are a pewter gray and plum brown patina with near overall very light pinprick pitting and some moderate dings and handling marks along the left barrel. The bag-shaped French walnut grip rates very good plus with much original varnish and light scalloped carving where it meets the frame, also with overall minor dings and handling marks from the years. 1072. UNMARKED EUROPEAN DOUBLE BARREL PISTOL About .50 cal. CF, 7" barrels with fair bores showing only remnants of their deep rifling, also with minor dings and dents. The metal surfaces are overall moderately oxidized, the barrels slightly more heavily. The frame shows remnants of some light engraving, more prevalent on its left side. The ribbed walnut grip rates very good plus, perhaps showing an old light refinish. The engraving is still crisp on the cylinder and frame. The hammer shows some very nice color case-hardening, the trigger toned to a case-hardened gray. The checkered hard rubber "T. & R." monogrammed grips rate excellent, they are un-numbered and fit perfectly. The bottom of the butt is drilled and tapped and the rear strap of the butt has a single drilled hole, doubtless for a period shoulder stock, the work appears to be factory and there was an 8"-barreled "pocket rifle" offered with just such a shoulder stock. The front sight has been slightly regulated during the period of use and there is some light flaking of the nickel on its left side. The center pin is slightly bent and the bottom of the barrel just beneath it has been ground slightly, doubtless due to someone's inability to remove the pin over the years. (36080-20) {ANTIQUE} (350/550)

1075. MERWIN & BRAY SWIVEL BARREL POCKET PISTOL serial #724, .28 cal. CF (Flayderman calls it 32 cal.), 3 1/2" octagon barrel with a poor bore. The barrel is primarily a bright gun metal gray with a scattering of light brown oxidation and light pinprick pitting. Hammer and trigger are a pewter patina. The frame is a dull tarnished goldenrod patina. The smooth rosewood grips rate about very good as lightly refinished, being slightly undersized in spots with the left grip showing a tiny chip. Barrel-to-frame fit is loose and there is no half-cock notch. The top barrel flat is maker-marked. (35906-8) {ANTIQUE} (150/250)

1076. COLT POLICE POSITIVE DOUBLE ACTION REVOLVER serial #107187, 38 New Police, 5" barrel with an excellent bore. The barrel is primarily a pewter gray patina with some light brown oxidation, darker brown speckling and light pitting. The frame retains about 15% original blue, the balance flaked to brown and pewter as well, also showing scattered oxidation and light pinprick pitting. The checkered hard rubber Colt monogrammed grips both rate poor with multiple chips. The gun locks up loosely, the crane does not fit the frame precisely and the gun likely will need mechanical attention. Included is a modern Don Hume black leather duty holster for a large frame 4" barrel revolver. A somewhat tired first issue overall. (36193-5) {C&R} (75/150)

1077. HARRINGTON & RICHARDSON SELF-LOADING 25 ACP PISTOL serial #2496, 25 ACP, 2 1/8" barrel with a fair bore. The metal surfaces on this first variation retain about 97% original nickel the primary loss being sharp edge wear showing also some very light brown flaking. The safety catch and trigger have toned to a plum brown with the triggerguard a lightly oxidized pewter gray. The checkered hard rubber H.&R. monogrammed grips rate very good plus. One original all blued magazine is included, its base having toned to plum. Slide and frame are numbered alike, the slide is slightly sluggish. (36114-8) {C&R} (250/350)

1078. UNMARKED BELGIAN FOLDING TRIGGER VELO DOG REVOLVER serial #15, 28 cal. velo dog, 2" barrel with a fair bore. The metal surfaces on this hammerless folding trigger revolver are primarily a tarnished pewter gun metal gray with overall light brown speckling. The finely checkered ebony grips rate very good plus. The mechanism is sluggish. (35905-10) {C&R} (100/200)

1079. UNMARKED BELGIAN TOP BREAK FOLDING TRIGGER VELO DOG REVOLVER 22 cal. velo dog, 2 1/4" round barrel with a poor bore. The metal surfaces are an overall dull gun metal gray with light oxidation staining and near overall pinprick pitting, some light, the butt quite a bit more moderate. The checkered ebony grips rate about very good. The mechanism seems to function well however the top latch spring is either broken or missing. (35945-9) {C&R} (75/150)

1080. KOLB BABY HAMMERLESS DOUBLE ACTION REVOLVER serial #383, 22 RF, 1 1/4" round barrel with an oxidized bore. The metal surfaces retain about 97 to near 98% original nickel with the folding trigger showing a gray case-hardened patina. The checkered hard rubber "K" monogrammed grips rate excellent, they are scratch-numbered to the gun. The gun is mechanically functional, the cylinder pin head is somewhat scarred up. A few of the screws show a nice pale blue. (36015-12) {C&R} (75/150)

1081. UNMARKED BELGIAN DOUBLE ACTION PIN FIRE CONVERSION REVOLVER About .38 cal. (converted to) CF, 5" octagon barrel with a fair bore. The metal surfaces retain about 85-90% original nickel plate which is fading and flaking to brown in numerous areas, also showing some light oxidation. There is light geometric and foliate engraving on the frame, cylinder and a portion of the barrel. The hammer, trigger and triggerguard show remnants of some nice pale fire temper blue, now primarily an overall pewter and brown oxidized patina. The checkered hard rubber or gutta-percha grips are slightly ornate and rate about very good with a few very minor chips. The cylinder pin appears to be a common steel replacement, it has no head and is cut off flush with the frame. The pinfire hammer has had a crude centerfire firing pin added to its face and a hole drilled in the frame sometime during the period of use. The cylinder stop is not present and the gun will over-time. Included is an antique leather belt holster with strap which rates near very good. The front sight is missing. (36140-49) {ANTIQUE} (150/250)

1082. COLT MEDIUM FRAME SLIDE ACTION RIFLE serial #74667, 38 WCF, 26" octagon barrel with a good to near very good bore which shows some strong rifling but with scattered light pitting and the ghost of a very light ring about 3" from the muzzle. The barrel and magazine tube are primarily a plum brown patina with some gray undertones, also with lightly scattered oxidation, most prominent near the muzzle. The frame is primarily a pewter gray, also with plum brown oxidation, confined primarily to the upper and lower tangs, scattered about the balance of the surface. There are some scattered light pits and the Rampant Colt on the left side of the frame is light but still present. The buttstock has had a slightly hard life and rates about good showing a neat, honest, period repair to a crack completely through the wrist. There are two thin iron strips affixed left and right with flat-head wood screws showing remnants of a blue japanned finish. Two-piece forend rates about very good as lightly sanded, now overall smooth with light dings and added finish. What is likely the original silver blade front sight is present, the blade itself has been shortened somewhat and the original Colt semi-buckhorn rear sight is present. The mechanism seems to work properly however the firing pin is broken and in two pieces, it is included, it would appear as though its retaining pin is not present. Overall a good candidate for restoration and some cowboy action shooting. (36118-2) {ANTIQUE} (400/600)

1083. EAGLE MANUFACTURING CO. PLANTS FRONTLOADING POCKET REVOLVER serial #4740, .30 cal. cup primed, 3 1/2" octagon barrel with a fair bore. The barrel is primarily a dull pewter and speckled brown patina with some light pinprick pitting; the cylinder is similar with excellent markings. The frame has toned to a tarnished ocher patina showing some traces of plate in the more protected areas with some minor dings and handling marks. The ejecting rod ball appears to be a replacement from the period of use. The smooth rosewood grips rate very good and fit very well. The cylinder pin is a more modern replacement, there being some scars on the barrel in the area of the cylinder pin. The gun seems to function loosely mechanically. (35906-3) {ANTIQUE} (200/300)
1084. WHITNEYVILLE MODEL NO. 2 POCKET REVOLVER serial #7085, 32 RF, 3 1/2" barrel with a poor bore. The barrel retains about 95% original nickel, the loss due to muzzle wear while the cylinder is a 50-50 mix of original nickel and dull pewter gun metal gray, showing scattered, near overall light pitting. The top of the barrel is Whitneyville Armory marked. The brass frame is a near even mix of original nickel plate flaking to reveal a dull ocher patina beneath. The birdshead walnut grips rate about very good with some strong traces of original varnish but only light handling marks. The revolver seems to function well mechanically. (35906-7) {ANTIQUE} (100/200)
1085. JOHNSON BYE & COMPANY FAVORITE NO. 2 SPUR TRIGGER REVOLVER serial #4644, 32 RF, 3" octagon barrel with a near very good bore. The barrel retains about 92% original nickel, the chief loss being flaking on the left side near the muzzle which has toned to a brown oxidized patina. The frame retains perhaps 97% original nickel, the loss being sharp edge and contact point wear with an overall very light speckling of oxidation. The cylinder retains perhaps 85-90% original nickel the loss due primarily to flaking and oxidation confined to one spot along its leading edge. The smooth rosewood birdshead grips rate very good with much original varnish and light dings. The action functions but does need mechanical attention as the trigger spring is broken or missing as is the cylinder stop bolt spring. (36054-40) {ANTIQUE} (75/150)
1086. FOREHAND & WADSWORTH BRITISH BULL-DOG DOUBLE ACTION REVOLVER serial #41619, 32 CF, 2 3/8" barrel with an about good bore. The metal surfaces of the barrel and frame retain about 95% original nickel with the loss due to some light muzzle flaking and some light high edge flaking to brown. The triggerguard has toned primarily to a soft plum brown patina along the face of its bow. The seven-shot cylinder retains about 65% original nickel, the loss due primarily to some flaking between three of the flutes. The checkered hard rubber grips rate about excellent with only some minor wear to the points. The ejector rod is slightly bent and the cylinder pin head is damaged (nearly missing). This third generation features the Forehand & Wadsworth marking on the barrel, the British Bull-Dog marking on the topstrap and dogs head trademark on left side of frame. The gun will need mechanical attention as the trigger does not always return properly. (36139-2) {ANTIQUE} (200/300)
1087. GERMAN DOUBLE ACTION IRISH CONSTABULARY REVOLVER serial #464, .320 CF, 2 3/8" barrel with an about very good bore. The metal surfaces retain about 90-92% original bright nickel, the loss is due primarily to some flaking on the right side of the barrel and frame which have resulted in light pinprick pitting and brown oxidation staining. There is some light loss on the barrel top flat as well and a few lights flakes on the frame next to the hammer along the rear of the frame. The checkered hard rubber grips rate excellent. The bottom of the rounded butt features a lanyard loop. There are "(crown)(crown)/U" proofs on the frame and cylinder and mock British proofs on the top of the frame and barrel. The gun seems to function well mechanically. (36139-3) {C&R} (150/250)
1088. BELGIAN LARGE FRAME DOUBLE ACTION TOP BREAK REVOLVER serial #27, 44 CF, 6" ribbed round barrel with a fair bore which shows oxidation but deep evident rifling. The metal surfaces are an overall soft brown oxidized patina with scattered oxidation and the odd pinprick pit here and there. The softwood grips are crudely made replacements retained with a non-gun hardware bolt. The top of the barrel rib is marked "For 44 Winchester Cartridge" with the left barrel lug marked "Belgium". The gun will function loosely but needs mechanical attention and is very loose barrel-to-frame. (35921-9) (100/200)
1089. IVER JOHNSON MODEL 1900 SOLID FRAME REVOLVER serial #3455, 32 CF, 2 1/2" octagon barrel with a very good bore. The metal surfaces retain about 98% of a later buffed nickel finish. The checkered hard rubber owls head grips rate very good with lightly flattened points. The gun is not mechanically functional and there is no front sight blade present. (36112-3) (20/50)
1090. ETHAN ALLEN & COMPANY SIDE HAMMER 22 REVOLVER serial #234, 22 RF, 2 1/2" octagon barrel with a good bore. The metal surfaces are a dull pewter gray patina with some remnants of smoky mottled case-hardening. There are minor scattered spots of brown oxidation speckling and perhaps a minor pinprick pit or two. The smooth rosewood birdshead grips rate very good with only remnants of flaking finish, the left grip with a minor crack. The tip of the hammer spur is broken off leaving a sharp edge. The gun does function mechanically. An about very good seventh issue overall. (36080-21) {ANTIQUE} (150/250)
1091. GERMAN SINGLE SHOT BLANK FIRING PISTOL. .22 BB cap blank, 2 1/4 solid "barrel" with about 3/4" combustion chamber with exhaust hole at the top. Metal surfaces retain about 92% original nickel with minor oxidation, casting flaws and a few pits. The hammer and trigger show some remnants of fire blue. Features a pivoting breech plate and pivoting extractor. The stamped sheet metal grips show some light oxidation and are primarily a plum patina. The pistol comes in a small jewelry box with inlaid mother-of-pearl and celluloid marquetry. (36075-4){non-gun}
1092. NAVY ARMS SHARPS REPLICA PEPPERBOX PISTOL serial #458244, 22 RF, 2 1/2" four barrel cluster with very good bores. The barrel and hammer retain about 97% original blue, the loss being some oxidation on the right upper barrel near the muzzles. The frame has toned to a dull tarnished goldenrod patina. The floral relief plastic grips rate about excellent. The gun seems to function well and comes in what is likely its original Navy Arms box with parts list, a service guarantee and what appears to be a spare trigger. (36198-S16904) (150/250)
1093. SMITH & WESSON MODEL NO. 1 THIRD ISSUE REVOLVER serial #54635, 22 RF, 3 1/8" ribbed round barrel with a fair bore. The metal surfaces are an overall dull pewter gunmetal gray and plum brown patina showing some generous traces of original silver plate in the protected areas of the barrel lug. There is some scattered minor oxidation with light pinprick pitting on the cylinder and the flash areas of the frame. The smooth rosewood grips rate very good plus with much original varnish and only wear along the sharp edges. Barrel-to-frame fit is loose but the gun does function mechanically. (36075-11) {ANTIQUE} (175/275)
1094. SMITH & WESSON NO. 1 SECOND ISSUE REVOLVER serial #67145, 22 RF, 3 3/16" ribbed octagon barrel with an about good bore. The barrel is primarily a plum brown patina showing some generous traces of original silver plate, perhaps 20% remaining. The frame retains a good amount of original nickel, perhaps 90-92% with the worn areas toning to an ocher patina, also showing minor dings and handling marks. The hammer, trigger, and cylinder are primarily a plum and gray patina. The smooth rosewood grips rate about very good with much original varnish but some minor dings and handling marks and wear along their sharp edges. The cylinder stop and its attendant parts are missing from the top of the frame. (36075-12) {ANTIQUE} (100/200)

1095. GERMAN LUGER P.08 PISTOL BY ERFURT serial #8646a, 9 mm, 4" barrel with a poor bore. The metal surfaces are a dark gray and brown patina with pewter undertones on the high edges and contact points. All the metal surfaces show light pitting with scattered moderate pitting and one or two spots which may be considered heavy. Most of the markings are still legible and the chamber is double dated "1920/1912" with the toggle Erfurt marked. It would appear as though all of the visible number parts are matching with the exception of the actual bolt and un-numbered firing pin, a few of the numbers cannot be distinguished due to pitting. The checkered walnut grips rate fair-poor and are worn nearly smooth with the left grip showing a prominent chip along its front edge near the magazine release. Included is one bright-body magazine with wooden base numbered 336. The magazine is extremely nice compared to the gun. A tired old veteran of the trenches overall, still fairly complete and appears to be working. (36140-23) {C&R} (300/500)
1096. GERMAN P. 38 PISTOL BY WALTHER serial #4178k, 9 mm, 4 7/8" barrel with an about very good bore. The metal surfaces retain about 85-90% later post-war nickel with the worn areas toning to a speckled brown and pewter patina. The ribbed brown phenolic resin grips rate very good plus and very good, the right grip showing a repair along its rear edge. A single magazine is included, it is not numbered and has been cleaned to gray. A number of the markings are light due to the polishing and plating. Currently, the slide is in a state of disassembly but it would appear from a cursory inspection, all the parts are present. The frame portion seems to function appropriately. (34418-17) (200/300)
1097. CHINESE COPY OF FN MODEL 1900 SEMI-AUTO PISTOL serial #26083, about 32 cal., 3 3/4" barrel. The metal surfaces on this amusing Chinese copy of the Fabrique Nationale model 1900 semi-auto pistol are an overall pewter and speckled brown patina with some generous traces of original blue in the more protected areas; there is overall lightly speckled pinprick pitting as well. The checkered Asian hardwood grips rate about very good. The Mauser name and Belgian proofs have been counterfeited on the gun and the left side of the slide has had the word "Fabrique", loosely spelled, stamped six times. The left side of the frame is stamped twice "Berstal", evidently Chinese Belgian not that good. A single magazine is included. It should be noted that these interesting copies are sold as collectors' items only and are absolutely not considered safe to fire. (36193-3) {C&R} (150/250)
1098. COLT MODEL 1908 VEST POCKET SEMI-AUTO PISTOL serial #137516, 25 ACP, 2 1/8" barrel with a fair-poor bore. The metal surfaces are an overall dull pewter and mottled dark gray patina, likely the result of some cold-applied blue. There are some scattered oxidation spots and some minor pinprick pitting, more prevalent along the right side of the slide. The checkered Colt hard rubber grips with Rampant Colt rate about very good with the pony worn primarily smooth. One original two-tone magazine is included which rates very good plus. The gun seems to function well mechanically. (36140-48) {C&R} (150/250)
1099. EXCAM ARMI TANFOGLIO GT 27 SEMI-AUTO PISTOL serial #MK05580, 25 ACP, 2 1/2" barrel with an about good bore. The metal surfaces retain perhaps 20% original blue and anodized finish the worn areas being a pewter gray patina with some minor scratches and handling marks as well. The smooth hardwood grips rate about good with moderate wear, the right grip being retained with a Phillips head wood screw. There is no magazine. (36198-S166653) (20/40)
1100. EMIL ZEHNER ZEHNA MODEL POCKET PISTOL serial #13948, 25 ACP, 2 1/2" barrel with an excellent bore. The metal surfaces retain about 98% of what appears to be a later heavy nickel plate. The smooth genuine mother-of-pearl-grips rate excellent. Included are two blued magazines. (36162-43) {C&R} (50/100)
1101. MAUSER MODEL 1910 POCKET PISTOL serial #302000, 25 ACP, 3" barrel with a bright about excellent bore. The metal surfaces are primarily a deep dark gray, faded original blue patina with toning to pewter along the high edges and contact points, mingling with a light brown soft oxidized patina. The front of the recoil spring guide and sides of trigger still exhibit some strong traces of pale fire temper blue. The checkered walnut one-piece grip rates very good with much original varnish, slight flaking, checkering worn slightly to flat top and a tiny chip missing from its rear edge; amusingly there are three small "kill" notches at the right side rear of butt. One original Mauser-marked magazine is included and the right side of the frame is stamped "Germany". Overall a very good example of a commercial model 1910 Mauser overall. (36140-47) {C&R} (200/300)
1102. MAUSER MODEL 1910 POCKET PISTOL serial #848331, 25 ACP, 3" barrel with a good bore. The metal surfaces are primarily a pewter patina with some traces of dark gray original faded blue in the more protected areas, also with some scattered very minor pinprick pitting, dings and handling marks from the years. The trigger still exhibits some strong traces of pale fire temper blue. The checkered walnut one-piece grip rates very good with some added varnish showing a light cleaning. One original un-marked magazine is included. (36140-46) {C&R} (150/250)
1103. BERETTA MODEL 1915 SEMI-AUTO PISTOL serial #29747, 32 ACP, 3 1/4" barrel with a fair-poor bore. The slide is an overall pewter and brown patina with light and some moderate pitting scattered about the surface, the extractor showing good pale fire blue. The frame retains perhaps 20-30% original blue, the balance toning to pewter gray on the sharp edges with near overall light surface oxidation and perhaps a few spots of minor pitting. The grooved hardwood grips show remnants of their oval "PB" logo and rate good to near very good. The frame and slide are serial numbered alike and the rear right of the frame is inspector marked "PS" in oval. The original magazine is included showing light oxidation and perhaps some minor pitting as well. The gun seems to function mechanically. (36158-2) {C&R} (200/400)
1104. GERMANY HEBEL MODEL 1894 SIGNAL PISTOL BY GREIFELT & CO serial #11920, 26mm Flare, 9" part octagon part round barrel with a very good bore. The metal surfaces are an overall dark gray-blue faded original blue patina with toning to brown on the straps and some sparsely scattered oxidation. The hardwood grips rate very good with much original varnish but the overall minor dings and handling marks one would expect. The left side of the frame is marked "G&Co." and there are several imperial German proofs on the right side. The back of the grip frame is marked "GREIFELT & Co. / SUHL". Pistol includes a lanyard loop at the base of the grip. Some of the screw heads show some slot damage. An interesting flare gun from Imperial Germany. (35945-7){non-gun}
1105. GERMAN LUFTWAFFE 2ND MODEL OFFICER'S DAGGER BY B.&A. 10 1/8" double edged blade, 15 1/4" overall length. This is a very nice example of the Post WWII 1946 - 1947 manufactured Luftwaffe officers daggers made for commercial sale to American GIs -and anyone else- in the market for a souvenir in Germany. The obverse of the blade is marked "Solingen 1939" with the blade-makers double-crossed "B.&A." logo while the reverse of the blade is marked only "Germany". The blade is as-new retaining excellent original polish and still has its orange-tone onion skin over-wrap. The post-war Third Reich-style fittings are all cast aluminum, the Luftwaffe eagle guard shows a minor abrasion, perhaps due to being dropped, on the Eagles head and right wing. The grip ferrule shows some light oxidation while the white celluloid grip and grip wrap are mildly dirty. The pommel nut rates about excellent. A nice post-war leather scabbard is included with nickel silver tip and throat chape. (35872-8A) (200/300)

1106. GERMAN N.S.K.K. DAGGER BY JP SAUER & SON

This appears to be a near very good example of a 1933 pattern Nationalsozialistisches Kraftfahrerkorps dagger. The straight double-edged blade measures about 8 5/8" while the dagger measures 13 1/2" overall from tip to top of capstan nut. The blade rates about very good overall showing remnants of light oxidation and light pitting front and back with a lightly buffed cleaning leaving no remnants of the original polish marks. The "Alles für Deutschland" motto remains crisp on the obverse with the matting within the etching now lightly polished while the reverse shows the standing ancient hunter trademark of Sauer and son in oval surrounded by "JP Sauer & Sohn/Suhl" also in oval; oddly the marking is slightly off center to the left. The crossguard and pommel appear to be nickel silver and have a mellow tarnished pewter appearance, the reverse side of the crossguard is gau marked "Nm" for Nordmark and also unit marked "R13" and numbered "11960"; there is a minor impact mark on the front of the crossguard with some minor tool marks at the pommel. The fruit wood handle rates about excellent with crisp edges showing some minor dings and scratches with some very light water staining; it may be from a different dagger as there are distinct gaps at its fit with both pommel and crossguard and there is no matching impact mark on the handle where something clearly impacted the crossguard. The party eagle is well-defined and fits well, the cloissonné S.A. emblem shows some superficial verdigris or tarnishing around its circumference but is overall very good. The black enameled scabbard shows some light handling marks and scratches along with what is clearly some added enamel. The nickel throat chape is tarnishing very slightly and is marked identically to the crossguard "R13 11960", it however does not fit the scabbard precisely, there being a ghost marking from the original throat chape on the body of the scabbard. The tip chape appears to be steel retaining most of its original nickel with some light flaking, primarily on the ball, which has resulted in a light oxidation of the steel beneath. Still a very good N.S.K.K. dagger overall with perhaps some mixed parts, but interesting markings. (35984-14)

1107. GERMAN LUFTWAFFE 2ND MODEL OFFICER'S DAGGER BY COPPELL

10" double edged blade, 15 1/4" overall length. This is a very good example of an Alexander Coppel second model Luftwaffe officers dagger. The blade is overall bright showing evidence of a light cleaning which has left remnants of light oxidation and perhaps some microscopic pinprick pitting. There is little original polish but the edges remain crisp, the obverse shows the "Alocoso" and ACS/scales trademark of Alexander Coppel of Solingen. The cast aluminum Luftwaffe eagle guard and ball-shaped swastika and oakleaf pommel are a bright cast aluminum, and appear lightly cleaned, very late war examples. The grip ferrule shows a silver-soldered seam along its left edge and the slightly off-white celluloid grip rates very good and appears to be genuine in every respect along with its braided brass wire wrap; there is a tiny age crack along its left edge at the lower first rib. A steel scabbard with aluminum hangers is included, it has been cleaned to gun metal gray overall with remnants of some light pinprick pitting, likely by wire-wheeling. This being the case it would certainly lead me to believe that the guard and pommel are original equipment on the blade, merely cleaned by some well-meaning GI. (35984-16)

(300/500)

1108. GERMAN GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS DAGGER BY COPPELL

10 1/8" double edged blade, 14 1/2 overall length. This is an interesting example of what is likely a post-war assemblage using an original Coppell blade. The obverse of the blade shows some very good original polishing marks along with some minor drag marks from the scabbard while the reverse shows the appropriate "Alocoso" and ACS/scales trademark of Alexander Coppel of Solingen. The silver-gold toned, plated crossguard rates excellent but its definition is less fine than on examples encountered, the wreath and swastika, indeed the Eagles wings seem somewhat rudimentary the punch-dot shading within the wings seems too coarse. The silver ferrule is slightly wrinkled but the backstrap and pommel show a nice blue-gray tarnish, the definition on the Eagles head, eyes and beak also not as crisp as observed Second World War examples. There are a number of marks on the pommel, perhaps indicating it was dropped, the spanner nut shows evidence of having been loosened, or perhaps tightened, the handle now slightly loose on the dagger itself. The simulated mother-of-pearl grips rate very good plus with a few minor scratches and handling marks from the years, showing some very good translucence. The scabbard retains very good overall silver plate which is now tarnishing slightly and has good quality oak leaf hangers, the suspension rings as well seem to retain all of their original silver plate. There is one dent in the scabbard near the tip on its backside. Included with the dagger is an all silver portepee which rates excellent with one tiny bit of fraying at the top stem of the acorn. A very nice example overall of what appears to be an assembled Government Officials Dagger. (35984-19)

(300/500)

1109. UNATTRIBUTED THIRD REICH "EASTERN PEOPLES" DAGGER

This is an "HG" marked dagger which very closely resembles S.A. 1933 pattern daggers. The double-edged blade is 8 3/4" overall length with a wide central fuller, 13 3/4" overall length. The blade is overall very good plus showing some light cleaning, a few light oxidation stains and a few minor pits or inclusions from the forging process. The dagger is fitted with a dual-curved heavy brass crossguard and a rather heavy brass eagle or falcon-head pommel retained by a spanner nut. The crossguard shows some minor impact marks and is marked "HG, the blade is numbered "50" below it. The handle appears to be of maple and retains a good deal of original varnish with light wear along the high edges and small handling marks from the years rating very good overall. There is a black-lacquered steel scabbard included with brass throat and tip chapes, again loosely following the 1933-pattern German dagger scabbards; the suspension ring is missing. An interesting dagger overall, similar and identical examples are pictured on page 302 of Collecting the Edged Weapons of the Third Reich Volume II © 1976 by Thomas Johnson. (35984-23) (200/400)

1110. POSTWAR HUNGARIAN AIR FORCE DAGGER

This is a fairly good postwar copy of the Second World War Hungarian Air Force dagger. The double-edged blade measures 8" with an overall length of 13 1/8" blade tip to eaglehead pommel. The blade retains a fairly good bright buffed polish with remnants of some minor oxidation and pinprick pitting. The obverse ricasso seems to be marked "Hungaria" and is numbered 167 superimposed over 304; the obverse of the blade with a small shield-coat of arms. The crossguard is of two-piece construction with a nickel plated brass dual-curving guard with a ribbed ferrule to-which is affixed a brass eagle with outstretched wings. There is a good deal of wear on the Eagles head and legs, the quality of the casting slightly more rudimentary than observed examples. The ribbed gutta-percha or hard rubber grip rates about very good showing some chips and a fracture on its reverse face near the eaglehead pommel. The eaglehead pommel shows quite a bit of wear as well retaining only traces of its original nickel plate also being somewhat more simple than observed examples. The brass scabbard retains traces of nickel plate with a good deal of wear to the embossed Hungarian coat of arms, more likely it was somewhat crudely cast to begin with, the blade catch as well fits rather loosely and is not consistent with Second World War examples. Overall a very good "example" piece for the budding collector. (35984-22) (150/250)

1111. OTTOMAN YATAGAHAN WITH NIELLO FITTINGS This Turkish Yataghan with scabbard measures 26" overall. The blade is 40% covered with stabilized black oxidation and also is incised on both sides with Arabic characters. The hilt was originally all niello, with approx 20% remaining. There is a European style cheekpiece for a right hand shooter, and the gun is equipped with a blade front sight and dovetailed 1/2" tube rear sight. The stock is embellished with some faintly outlined scroll and a running buck and there are some lightly carved marks ahead of the lock and around the cross pin. The barrel retains about 90% original parkerized finish and is numbered 8359E. The breech end shows various proof marks while the underside of the barrel is marked "Navy Arms Company Ridgefield New Jersey". Oddly the last 3/4" of the barrel at the muzzle has been neatly machined with internal threads for some reason. Overall a very good Johnson Model 1941 7mm Mauser barrel. (36026-1A)
1748. COLT MODEL 1911 FRAME serial #201775, United States Property marked on its left dust cover. The frame has been overall bead blasted with a number of the edges slightly soft from a prior bright-polishing (this evidenced by the bright polish noted, from when the safety was removed, having been bead-blasted in place); it is now an overall dull gun metal gray with some minor oxidation. The frame is completely stripped but retains the stock screw bushings, ejector and plunger spring housing. The frontstrap is neatly stamped "H.A.Cole/U.S. Navy". Possibly a good platform for that custom race 1911 you've been wanting to build. (35614-22)
1749. RMT 1911 FRAME AND SLIDE LOT serial #R00547. This is a matte gray alloy frame from Ranger Machine and Tool of South El Monte California. The frame itself is stripped but for the stock screw bushings and plunger tube assembly, it retains nearly all of its original anodized finish with only minor scratches and handling marks. Included is a Second World War-vintage Remington Rand slide. The slide as well is stripped and is primarily a dull gray and brown patina with some light pinprick pitting overall. (35694-8)
1750. GERMAN MANN'S PATENT SEMI-AUTO VEST POCKET PISTOL serial #19185-21, 25 ACP, 1 3/4" barrel with a very good bore. The metal surfaces retain about 95% original blue with loss due to toning to pewter on the high edges and contact points. There are no grips present, no safety present, no magazine present and there may be other small parts missing. (35694-9) (10/50)
1751. UNMARKED BELGIAN CENTER HAMMER PERCUSSION PISTOL About .48 cal. percussion, 2" barrel with an oxidized bore. The metal surfaces are an overall soft brown oxidized patina with the frame flats showing light engraving. There is no wood present and the mechanism does not function. (35824-4) (ANTIQUE) (10/20)
1752. ROBBINS & LAWRENCE CO. PEPPERBOX PISTOL serial #4162, 28 cal. percussion, 4" five-shot barrel cluster with about very good bores. The metal surfaces are an overall soft plum brown and pewter gray patina with the barrel's showing light engraving near the breeches, also with some light engraving on the frame. The ribbed barrels are maker marked, the engraved portion shows numerous minor dings and impact marks obscuring some of the engraving. The frame shows some light pinprick pitting. The walnut stocks are later replacements and are not completely finished. The ring trigger is present as is a bent barrel catch, it would appear as though no other parts are present. (35455-2) (ANTIQUE) (40/80)

1753. MAUSER MODEL 1910 POCKET PISTOL serial #223492, 25 ACP, 3" barrel with a poor bore. The metal surfaces retain about 60% dark gray-blue fading original blue, the balance toned to pewter and soft brown patina; the trigger shows some remnants of very good pale fire temper blue as does the safety. The checkered one-piece walnut grip rates about very good with the checkering worn to flat-top with numerous dings along the butt. The gun is disassembled and may be missing parts, most notably the safety catch and its spring. (35694-3) (40/80)
1754. COLT NEW POLICE 32 DOUBLE ACTION REVOLVER serial #34730, 32 New Police, 4" barrel with an about good bore. The metal surfaces are primarily a pewter gray and soft faded brown patina with some generous traces of original blue in the protected areas and flutes. The gun is currently disassembled, all the parts appear to be present (no guarantees) however the hammer stud is broken off in the frame. (35694-7) (50/100)
1755. LOT OF IVER JOHNSON BLANK-FIRING REVOLVERS serial #'s S35163 & S43086, 32 cal. blank, The metal surfaces retain about 92% original blue with light scratches handling marks, light oxidation and wear to pewter. Both guns are currently disassembled likely with a number of parts missing. There is only one cylinder present and none of the grips are completely unmarred or un-chipped. [Please note BATFE considers these to be modern revolver frames as they are "readily convertible to fire fixed ammunition".] (35694-5,6) (20/50)
1756. MAUSER GEWEHR 98 ACTION BY DANZIG serial #3353, (action only). The metal surfaces are lightly cleaned gunmetal gray with overall light oxidation. The receiver rings have been professionally drilled and tapped for scope bases and the charging guide area milled flat. A non-matching bolt with straight handle is included, it is an assembly less the extractor and collar. No other parts of the action are included. Milled bottom metal is included numbered to a different receiver, it is stripped with no parts. (35953-68) (40/80)
1757. REMO MAUSER BOLT ACTION SHOTGUN serial #1905, 12 ga., 23 1/2" plain barrel with a moderately oxidized bore. The metal surfaces are an overall dark gray patina with pewter undertones showing light overall oxidation. All the metal parts have been serial numbered alike by Remo. There is no front bead, and the barrel has clearly been cut at some point, rather amateurishly. (35392-1) (25/75)
1758. U.S. MODEL 1917 BARRELED ACTION BY EDDYSTONE serial #1186309, 30-06, 26" 3-19 dated Winchester barrel with an about very good bore which shows strong rifling but with some minor scattered frosting. The metal surfaces are an overall dark gray faded original blue patina with toning to pewter and some scattered oxidation. This is a complete barreled action with bottom metal and bolt assembly, all mixed parts, there are no action screws nor stock present. (35485-1) (50/125)
1759. STEVENS MODEL 87D BARRELED ACTION 22 LR, 24" barrel with a very good bore. The metal surfaces are primarily a soft brown oxidized patina with minor pitting on the barrel and some pinprick pitting on the receiver. The inner magazine tube is not present, it would appear as though the recoil and striker springs and firing pin are not present nor is the extractor. It is likely other parts may be missing. (35614-23) (15/30)
1760. HAMILTON RIFLE COMPANY NO. 15 RECIPROCATING BREECH RIFLE 22 RF, 8" rifled barrel with an about good bore. The metal surfaces are primarily a soft brown and pewter patina with light near overall oxidation. The walnut buttstock rates very good showing perhaps some old added finish and with minor dings and handling marks from the years. The forend rates about very good, there is no buttstock present. There is a soldered front sight in place with no rear sight present. The action seems to function well however there is light vertical play barrel-to-frame. (35669-110) (40/80)
1762. SAVAGE REVOLVING FIREARMS COMPANY NAVY MODEL REVOLVER .36 cal. percussion, 7" octagon barrel with a poor bore. This is a relic-condition Savage Navy model revolver. The metal surfaces are an overall dark brown heavily oxidized patina with overall light and moderate pitting. The tip of the loading lever is missing, the sideplate is missing, there are no grips and it is likely there are missing small parts. (Not functioning mechanically) (35872-26) {ANTIQUE} (75/150)
1763. HARRINGTON & RICHARDSON HANDY GUN FRAME AND FOREND serial #21563, (frame only) Frame retains about 95% vivid color case-hardening with very good blue on the triggerguard, top lever and forend iron. The checkered pistolgrip and smooth forend rate very good with a small chip from the flared butt on the pistolgrip and a light ding at the flared upper tang. This example features the widely rearward-flaring grip tang. Likely from a 32-20 WCF, the barrel has gone missing but the action with-in the frame seems to function well. (35944-18) (150/250)
1764. HARRINGTON & RICHARDSON HANDY GUN FRAME AND FOREND serial #49240, (frame only) Frame retains about 92% vivid color case-hardening with very good blue on the triggerguard, top lever and fading colors on the forend iron. The checkered pistolgrip and smooth forend rate about excellent with much original varnish and only minor handling marks. This example features the short truncated grip tang. Likely from a 32-20 WCF, the barrel has gone missing but the action with-in the frame seems to function well. (35944-17) (150/250)
1765. GERMAN P.08 LUGER MAGAZINE This is a blued-body magazine with wooden base. The body retains about 85% original blue, the loss is due primarily to fading with wear to pewter around the lips. The wooden base appears to be made of beech and is not numbered. The magazine is completely unmarked. (35849-45A)
1766. GERMAN P.08 LUGER HOLSTER BY GENSCHOW This is a black hard-sided Luger holster marked on its rear "Genschow & Co A.G./Berlin" and dated 1936 with an eagle WaA112 stamping between the date and maker's mark. The holster rates very good to very good plus overall with only light scuffing and very light crackling being mostly supple and flexible. All the seam stitching is still intact and there is good japanning on the buckle. "ToM" is lightly scratched into the lid of the holster upside down (way-to-go "Tom"). Included inside is a dull gray takedown tool which is unmarked. An about excellent early-war Third Reich example overall. (35984-1A)
1767. LOT OF GUN ACCESSORIES This is a small lot of sights and other accessories. Two Micro semiautomatic pistol rear sights. One Lyman Globe style front sight. Russet brown padded hand-tooled stitched seat. Overall floral hand tooled with tight seam stitching and a few minor abrasions along the rolled edge of the cantle. Saddle has a medium horn and a broad "horned" swell with left-side lariat strap; there are minor abrasions on the horn and the wide edges of the swell. The seat is maker marked "Buck Steiner/Maker/Austin Tex" in oval, as well as on the rear jockey behind the cantle. There are six stamped-leather conchos with rawhide lashings and the saddle is single-rigged. The skirt and jockey are rounded and the fenders hand tooled as well with leather covered stirrups, each with dual leather conchos. The skirt is fleece backed, the lining fully intact and in excellent condition. A single leather flank strap is included. The leather is overall pliable and still supple showing the minor scuffs and drying that comes with a used saddle. Thomas "Buck" Steiner was born in Cedar Creek in Bastrop County Texas on December 2, 1899. At the age of twelve he ran away and began working in Wild West Shows and continued to compete in rodeos and performed stunts for Hollywood before starting a saddle and boot making shop in Austin in 1930. In 1993 he was inducted into the National Cowboy Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City. A very attractive Western saddle overall with plenty of life left. (35419-44) (200/400)

The saddle comes with rounded safes and hooded 1904 pattern stirrups with heavily embossed "U.S." on the hoods; along with the attendant quarter and stirrup straps to suspend them (it is possible that the quarter straps are modern). There is a braided cincha included with its strap as well. The metal hardware is primarily a lightly oxidized tarnished ocher patina while the leather remains mostly smooth and supple with only light scuffs and handling marks from the years. Included are a pair of 1904 second pattern saddlebags by Long, dated 1917. The saddlebags rate very good plus with light scuffing and flaking, but overall still supple. The center strap and buckle are present with each left and right strap being removed from both the left and right bags. There is some light separation at the leading edge of the throat of both the left and right bag that shows some re-stitching and a field repair. Also included is a 1909 curb bit with chain size-marked "3" and also "U.S." marked, the bit retaining very good original nickel plate with light oxidation. An appropriate pair of reins are attached as well as an appropriate bridle and Federal Eagle rosettes; the bridle may be more contemporary as the leather is very new. The rosettes show light tarnishing to the silver plate with some light wear exposing the copper beneath. A canvas 58 inch Rock Island Arsenal marked saddle blanket is included rating very good plus. A very complete and handsome-looking McClellan saddle overall. (35538-22) (400/600)

1770. ANTIQUE BUTTPLATE LOT This lot consists primarily of antique hard rubber butt plates. There are four; two are checkered, two are grooved. All show a moderate amount of wear but could be used to replace chipped or cracked buttplates on antique doubles. One of the grooved plates has a chip missing. One checkered hard rubber grip cap, likely for a Savage, a medallion or insert goes over the screw hole, it is not present. One blued steel Winchester style rear swivel, overall oxidized. One saddling carbine-style buttplate, heavily oxidized (maybe a trapdoor buttplate). A half-dozen oxidized screws are included. (33796-5)
1771. REMINGTON MODEL SEVEN YOUTH STOCK ASSEMBLY This is a birch Remington Model Seven stock for the youth-model Remington Model Seven rifle. The stock is either from a Remington or Smith Corona product. The stock is completely stripped of hardware and has been shortened to within 9" of the junction of barrel and receiver. Savage 99 forend. This is a checkered walnut forend with schnabel tip for a solid-frame Savage 1899 rifle. The escutcheon is present for the retaining screw and there has been a hole drilled ahead of this for a QD swivel stud which is not present. The stock retains much original varnish with crisp checkering and a tiny chip missing from its left rear edge, the right upper edge showing a 5" crack which would be an easy repair. The barrel channel appears to have been opened slightly. The serial number 579967 is stamped on the rear face of the forend. (35293-4,5)
1773. MISCELLANEOUS STOCK LOT This lot consists of two forearms. First is a custom-made shellflame maple forearm for a Browning Superposed shotgun. The quality of the workmanship somewhat rudimentary, appearing to be for a 12 ga. gun. The forearm is semi-gloss finished and unchecked. If not adaptable to a Superposed it certainly would make very nice knife scales or perhaps small handgun grips. The second forearm is a splinter style and is diamond-checked near overall. It is for a part octagon part round barreled gun with a small hole at its rear face. Possibly for a Ballard or other single shot rifle. The width across the barrel flats is 1 1/8". It rates very good plus. (35006-92B)

1774. ANTIQUE REVOLUTIONARY WAR-ERA

FASCINE KNIFE This is the consummate rev. war-era fascine knife. The 12 1/2" blade has a sharply hooked bill at its front edge and is 3 1/2" at its widest section with an overall length of 17 3/4". The blade is an overall dark oxidized brown patina and features a crisp hallmark "EP" stamp on its obverse ahead of the grip. A check of Bezdek's American Swords and Sword Makers suggests this may have been forged by Edward Pilkington, Chester County Pennsylvania whitesmith, blacksmith and cutler who was active 1765-1776. The grip appears to be of oak and is riveted to the knife with heavy square iron staples. The rear edge of the grip has a sharp protruding J-shaped hook for hanging on one's belt or off the breastworks. Really a very nice, quality-made example overall in a fine state of condition. (34192-102)

1774

1776. LOT OF COLT FIREARMS COMPANY HISTORICAL PRINTS This is the familiar set of six Colt revolver prints put out by the Colt company in the 40s-50s. Included are nice images of the Colt Texas Paterson revolver, the Colt Walker revolver, the Colt Wells Fargo percussion revolver, the Colt 1851 Navy revolver, the Colt 1860 Army revolver and the Colt Single Action Army "peacemaker" revolver. A nice depiction of each revolver is front and center of the view with a historical scene in the background of each, whether Indian fight, Mexican-American war, Civil War etc. Each print measures 14" by 11" overall with each view measuring roughly 10 3/4" by 7". The prints are overall very good plus to excellent with a couple showing some very minor foxing or handling marks. The pressed card outer folding sleeve is present reading "A Collection of Colt Historical Prints 1836-1873" showing some minor oil staining on its front. The outer shipping envelope is also included postmarked April of 1943 with the Colts Patent Firearms Company label on the front. A lovely set of prints suitable for professional framing. (34892-60)
1777. LOT OF COLT PATENTS This is a lot of patents granted to the Colts Patent Firearms Manufacturing Company (its successors, assigns etc.) from 1919, 1920, 1929, 1930, 1933 and 1934. These appear to be the actual original patents from the patent office of the United States of America, printed, numbered, bound in blue cloth with a red patent seal affixed to the same. The patents are for: (two) "machines for washing dishes and other articles"; "a dishwashing machine"; (two) "washing machines" and the last for "jet devices for washing machines". All were invented by George Webb of West Hartford Connecticut, all are assigned to the Colt Patent Firearms Manufacturing Company. Copies of the letters of assignment are included signed by George Webb and a local notary public. There is some Colt inter-department correspondence included with some and all include the patent drawings of the individual machines in question. These could be very handy if at any point you wanted to start manufacturing 1920s-era dishwashing equipment. Really an interesting lot of documents for the engineer or fancier of antique equipment. (34366-Q)
1778. LOT OF COLT PATENT CORRESPONDENCE This is a rather large lot of patent correspondence between Colt Firearms and a Lawrence Langner of New York, foreign patent attorney. The first batch of correspondence is dated 1919 and is in relation to Swiss patent applications for the automatic machine gun and automatic machine rifle (appears to be the BAR). Basically acknowledging receipt of correspondence etc., what appears to be a copy of the Swiss patent or perhaps patent application is included. They are certificates of tax payments from 1926-1935 from Stevens, Langner, Perry and Rawlinson in London for payments of both Norwegian and Swiss patent taxes. There are letters of patent renewal as well from 1933 right up through postwar time basically acknowledging foreign and British patent applications and an application specifically regarding something being made by the British government and patent renewal taxes. The next part of the lot deals with a number power of attorney assignments for patent matters in four countries, specifically appearing to be South America. There is a 1926-dated Argentina assignment, a 1925-dated assignment which seems to be Polish, a 1914 power of attorney assignment for Argentina, one for Uruguay, one for Paraguay and yet another for Argentina. There is also correspondence registering trademarks in Cuba, in 1925 and 6. These for the Colt "Noark" trademark they use on their electric fuses and the "Vulcabeston" trademark used on compressed packing, gaskets, washers pump valves etc. (I think it should've been called "Coltbestos") Overall a somewhat interesting lot of Colt patent documents. (34366-R)

The heavy copper body retains a pleasing red bronze patina with very light usage marks. The brass surfaces show traces of original lacquer overlaid with mottled dark patina and a pleasing un-cleaned feel. The top contains a bullet receptacle with rotating cover beside a tapered charging spout. The return spring is broken, with the thumbpiece intact. The brass base conceals a screw off cover and receptacle for flints or percussion caps. Very similar if not identical to Riling #167. A very nice small pistol flask that would display well in a period casing. (145850-1)

1988. LARGE IDEAL ARMORY GANG BULLET MOLD. This lot consists of a seven cavity iron gang mold with sprue cutter. The mould will cast a round nose .358 diameter bullet with single grease groove and crimping groove. This extremely well built mold is of the Ideal armory type, with the only markings being the number 358311 which no doubt corresponds to the Ideal/Lyman 160 grain round nose bullet of the same number and profile. The mold halves are of 1 1/2" by 3/4" milled iron bar stock, with the hinged sprue cutter machined from solid 5/16" iron. A 1/2" diameter hinge pin bears double 7/8" locking nuts on both ends with a grease fitting at the top. Exterior metal surfaces show dark brown mottled patina with both interior mold faces showing smooth surfaces with speckled light pinprick pitting. All cavities appear clean and castable. The turned hard maple handles have bright steel ferrules and show light shrinkage cracks that do not affect function. The overall weight of this serious mold is 5lb. 7oz. and it remains as usable today as when it was new. (146024-14)

1989. LARGE CRAMER GANG BULLET MOLD. This lot consists of a cast iron gang type bullet mold casting five .358 diameter wad-cutter bullets. The mold blocks remain in excellent condition with tight faces and clean castable cavities, showing the Cramer name cast into both outside faces. The sprue cutter swings on the hinge pin and remains tight to the cavity bases. All metal surfaces show a clean dark brown to black aged surface. The rock maple handles are mounted in brass ferrules with hexagonal cooling fins milled ahead of the ferrules. Later bought out by Saeco manufacturing company, these high quality molds were made Cramer in North Hollywood CA in the late 1930's. In eminently usable condition, this example has many years of use left in it. (146024-13)

1990. BRAZILIAN MODEL 1908 BOLT ACTION RIFLE BY DWM serial #1005K, 7mm Mauser, 29 1/4" barrel with a dark bore showing moderate pitting throughout. The metal surfaces show an even dark brown to black patina with scattered oxidation and light surface pitting at the muzzle, with the buttplate showing heavier oxidation and wear. A strong Brazilian national crest is present on the receiver ring, with DWM manufacturers marking present on the side rail. An import mark is present forward of the bayonet lug. The non-matching bolt remains in the white in protected areas with the handle and bolt sleeve aged to a lightly oxidized gray brown. The stock remains solid, showing an un-cleaned surface with dings and usage marks that speak of long service. Two 1" cracks are apparent at the heel. In overall good condition, this rifle includes a correct bayonet with scabbard and frog, as well as a period military sling. (146128-16) {C&R} [Robert W.D. Ball Collection] (200/400)

1991. SPANISH MODEL 1893 BOLT ACTION RIFLE BY LOEWE serial #8884, 7mm Mauser, 29" barrel with a dark bore showing light pitting throughout. The refinished metal surfaces show a smooth black finish with scattered oxidation spots and usage marks. The receiver rings shows only a faint trace of the original crest, with a Loewe Berlin manufacturer's mark on the left side rail. No import marks are apparent, although a later "7mm" stamping appears forward of the handguard. The correctly numbered bolt has been cleaned to bright metal, and shows a non-matching bolt sleeve and safety. The stock remains in very good condition as cleaned with light impressions and usage marks. In overall good plus condition, this rifle includes a military style sling. (146128-38) {ANTIQUE} [Robert W.D. Ball Collection] (200/400)

1989

1992. SPANISH MODEL 1943 BOLT ACTION SHORT RIFLE serial #G5822, 8mm Mauser, 23 1/2" barrel with a good plus bore showing strong rifling with frosting throughout. The metal surfaces show a dark black arsenal refinish with polish marks and older pinprick pitting evident. A partially obscured Spanish crest remains visible on the receiver ring. The bayonet lug has been adapted to older style bayonets by the addition of a pinned auxiliary lug over the original lug. Correct dual sling swivels are present, mounted at both the left side as well as the underside of the barrel band and buttstock. The stock remains in very good condition as lightly cleaned and sanded with scattered usage marks and oil staining. In overall very good condition, the rifle includes a bayonet and period military sling. (146128-35) {C&R} [Robert W.D. Ball Collection] (200/400)
1993. CHILEAN MODEL 1895 BOLT ACTION SHORT RIFLE BY LOEWE serial #B7080, 7mm Mauser, 21 3/4" barrel with a good plus bore showing frosting within the grooves. The metal surfaces of the barrel show a dark brown to black patina fading to pewter at the forend cap and front sight ears. Areas of heavy pitting are present on the left side adjacent to the barrel channel. The receiver and floor-plate appear as a mottled gray brown with partially obscured Chilean crest present on the ring, and the Loewe manufacturers marking visible on the left side rail. The non-matching bolt remains in the white, now fading to an overall pewter with light speckled oxidation scattered across the extractor. The stock remains in very good plus condition, showing traces of original finish under light soiling and usage marks, along with a darker oil stained handguard that appears to be a period replacement. A neatly fitted 2 1/2" repair is visible on the underside of the forend, as well as a tight hairline crack at the upper tang. A Chilean cartouche remains visible on the left of the butt. In overall very good condition, the rifle includes a period military sling. (146128-71) {ANTIQUÉ} [Robert W.D. Ball Collection] (200/400)
1994. BRAZILIAN MODEL 1922 BOLT ACTION CARBINE BY FN serial #R0035, 7mm Mauser, 19 1/2" barrel with a dark bore showing light pitting throughout. The metal surfaces of the barrel show a dark brown black patina with both barrel bands appearing lightly cleaned. An import mark is visible forward of the bayonet lug, with no cleaning rod present. The receiver and trigger assembly show a mottled gray brown patina fading to pewter on the high edges with the front ring bearing a strong Brazilian crest and FN manufacturer's markings at the left side rail. The non-matching bolt remains in the white, now fading to mottled gray. The stock remains in very good condition as lightly cleaned and sanded, with scattered impressions and usage marks and a tight 1" hairline crack appearing at the upper tang. In about very good condition, this carbine includes a correct bayonet and scabbard as well as a period military sling. (146128-18) {C&R} [Robert W.D. Ball Collection] (200/400)
1995. GERMAN JAEGER HUNTING SWORD 19" single-edged blade, 23 3/4" overall length. The un-fullered blade is a dull gun metal gray patina with some light pitting and oxidation staining, the obverse side showing some light grind marks from cleaning, the reverse side with light remnants of etch. The brass guard shows a dual deer hooves and a clamshell counterguard as well as a ribbed brass ferrule. The genuine stag handle shows three applied acorns and there is a ribbed pommel cap; all the brass is a pleasing ochre patina. The reverse side of the guard is marked "Sch 023". A very good to near very good plus condition German hunting sword overall. (35481-7)
1996. GERMAN JAEGER HUNTING SWORD 16" single edged blade, 21 1/2" overall length. The un-fullered blade is primarily a dull pewter patina showing scattered overall oxidation staining, light cleaning marks, some pitting at the tip which is very consistent with blood protein, and very light remnants of its original etch. The iron guard shows dual deer hooves and a spread-winged eagle counter-guard with a simple ribbed ferrule. The genuine stag handle rates very good with a few minor chips. There is a ribbed pommel cap with small beaded nut; all of the iron hardware has toned to a pleasing deep pewter patina. Overall an about very good unmarked German hunting sword. (35646-4)
1997. WINCHESTER MODEL 94 TAKEDOWN BARREL ASSEMBLY This is a barrel and magazine tube assembly for a Winchester model 1894 rifle. Caliber is 38-55 and the octagon barrel is 26" with a fair-near poor bore. The barrel is an overall gray and plum brown patina with scattered light oxidation staining while the full-length magazine tube is more of a dark gray-blue faded original blue, also showing some light oxidation. The nose-cap and takedown boss are primarily an oxidized pewter and brown, the takedown boss with some minor impact marks. The smooth forend rates very good showing numerous minor scuffs and scratches along its right side while the left side shows and older 3 1/2" crack which seems tight. There are no sights present. (35642-1)
1998. WINCHESTER MODEL 70 BARREL This is a target-weight Winchester Pre '64 model 70 barrel in 30-06 measuring 24" overall. The bore is bright excellent with the very tiniest amount of frosting nearer the throat. The barrel retains about 97% original blue overall, the loss due primarily to some light scratches and handling marks with a very tiny impact mark on its lower edge near the muzzle. There is a front dovetail and the barrel is factory drilled and tapped for target blocks near the caliber marking. The underside is 1954-dated. Barrel measures 1.145" at the receiver and .785" at the muzzle. (35959-3)
1999. U.S. MODEL 1917 RIFLE STOCK This is a U.S. model 1917 Walnut rifle stock. The stock is completely stripped and is a dark brown-russet with overall light dings and handling marks. There is a small chip on the left side of the butt at the heel and an eagle head inspectors marking at the rear of the triggerguard inletting at the pistolgrip; the nose of the stock is stamped with a capital "T". There are no other evident markings. Overall a very good candidate to refresh that cut-down 1917 rifle stock. (33846-2A)
2000. GERMAN P.08 LUGER HOLSTER This is a somewhat tired hard-sided holster for a Luger P.08 pistol. It shows a long service life and shows moderate crackling and flaking along the top edge of the flap and along the outer magazine pouch compartment. There is minor scuffing and handling marks over the balance of the surfaces with most of the stitching still intact, some has separated. No maker can be discerned however the cover flap shows what is likely a unit stamping "S.Mg.Ir.5" with the rear body stamped "S.Mg.527." over the number 2023. There were a number of other markings inside the flap which have been inked-out the very last ink-stamping evident is "B.J.A. IV". There is evidence of the old diagonal closure buckle and strap having been removed in deference to the current vertical strap and riveted iron acorn affixed to the flap of the holster. There is a gray steel cleaning tool in its place inside the flap numbered "2023", just as the body of the holster is. An about very good example overall. (35933-37)
2001. ANTIQUÉ MUZZLELOADER BARREL BY J. HENRY AND SON OF PENNSYLVANIA 30 1/2" barrel about 50 cal. with a bright very good plus bore. The barrel is marked on its top flat "J. Henry & Son". The barrel is an overall dark gray and brown patina with overall minor and moderate oxidation. There is a shallow dovetail for a front sight which is no longer present and a semi-buckhorn rear sight fitted. The barrel is not vented nor does it appear to have been. The rear is threaded for a breech plug and there is a breech plug rough-cast blank attached awaiting only your machining and fitting. There are two iron ramrod thimbles attached and a ramrod tenon about 5" from the breech. It is possible this barrel was shortened from the rear and re-threaded. Measures 1 1/16" across the flats. A very good antique barrel for your muzzleloading project overall. (33559-51)
2002. REMINGTON MODEL 1100 BARREL This is a 30" ventilated rib barrel choked full with a bright very good plus to near excellent bore. The barrel is for 2 3/4" shells and the rib is fitted with dual silver beads. The barrel retains about 92% original blue with overall light oxidation. (35485-21A)
2003. ANTIQUÉ MUZZLELOADING BARREL This is a 42" percussion barrel, likely for a fowler, not quite 10 bore. There is a patented heavy breech bolster with tang affixed at the rear, the tang drilled for a screw. The barrel was retained with three iron bands and has a square under-lug at the muzzle, perhaps for bayonet fitting; the bands were quite narrow looking at the wear pattern on the barrel. The barrel is an overall brown and pewter patina with moderate pitting around the nipple bolster. There is no nipple present. (34395)

2004. U.S. ALLEN CONVERSION BARREL AND BREECH BLOCK BASE 40" overall length with 36 1/2" rifled section of barrel. Barrel is about .52 caliber and the bore is dark and oxidized. The metal surfaces are an overall plum brown patina with pewter undertones, minor dings and handling marks are present and there is some active oxidation and some scattered pinprick pitting. The rear sight base is present (no leaves), as is the ejector spring and the breech block catch spring. The breech block base and its screw are present as well. The tang is broken off at the screw hole. (33559-52)
2005. SNIDER CAVALRY CARBINE BARRELED ACTION This is a barreled action only, appearing to be for a Snider cavalry carbine. It's overall length is 17 3/4" with a 15" barrel. Caliber is about 68 with a poor rifled bore. All metal surfaces are a dull pewter gray and oxidized brown patina. There is a simple blade front sight and square base v-notch rear. The pivot breech mechanism works well and the firing pin and half-collar extractor are present and functional. Oddly there are no British proofs and this may be from a continental carbine rather than British. (Belgian?) An interesting project to restore your Snider overall. (35232-1)
